Monthly comment

Global equities have posted solid gains in February, supported by resilient economic data and relatively strong earnings reports. US growth exceptionalism persists and despite softer retail activity in January there are few signs of the slowdown. This economic resilience, alongside signs that inflationary pressures have not yet entirely dissipated, suggest central banks will likely be on hold for a little while longer. Government bonds lost ground, falling by 0.8% given the decreased likelihood of imminent rate cuts. In terms of credit, high-yield indices, which are less sensitive to interest rates, outperformed investment-grade bonds.

The portfolio gained 0.9% over the month. Bonds were the only negative contributors, weighing 0.3% to the performance. Equities were the largest positive contributors, adding 1.4%. We exited from our holdings in gold equities, the JB Konwave Gold fund, as our stop loss has been reached. We keep our 3% in physical gold as several central banks cuts during 2024 should boost the appeal for the yellow metal. Our positioning remains otherwise unchanged this month. We continue to find the risk/return profile of investment-grade bonds attractive. Real bond yields are historically high, and future rate cuts by central banks will support the performance of this asset class.

We have a neutral stance in equity. We are benefiting from the favourable momentum on the macroeconomic front and on corporate earnings, but believe that much of this good news is already priced in. Equity markets have climbed more than 20% since November. Valuations are stretched on US assets, which account for 70% of the global market. Therefore, we would be well advised to maintain a balanced positioning and not chase the stock market rally at all costs.
